1960 annual

As we turn our vision and our efforts towards the infinite spaces of the heavens and focus on distant stars our concept of man himself grows apace. Never has the singular potential of mankind been so anxiously and dilligently cultivated. The responsibility of the artist in all of his activities deepens and enriches. The wonderful talents which the faculty and students of this college bring together and through which they develop in mutual friendship and respect produce abilities of far reaching consequence in the life and culture of the Commonwealth , the nation and the world.

It has been our treasured privilege to share together a short period in the long and distinguished history of a great and expanding Massachusetts College of Art. As its President I extend my most sincere greetings.

senior symposium

Inaugurated by the Senior Class, under the inspiring guidance of Mrs. Jenny Rembert, the Senior Symposium is a series of lectures and discussions with noted figures in the Arts and Sciences.

During this first year we have had as our guests such people as William Wyman, Ceramicist; Joseph Caruso, Author; Ralph Leblanc, Architect; Hugh Townley, Scuptor; Morton Sacks, Painter; and Frederick Walkey, Director of the DeCordova Museum.

The Senior Symposium was created to become a permanent and enduring function of the Senior Class.
